

boston children's hospital

Excellent explorations for families

Boston Children's Hospital is in the center of the Longwood Medical and Academic Area. Within a 20-minute walk are some of Boston's best sights for kids [grownups, too!] — a puppet theatre, playgrounds, an anatomical museum, Fenway Park [open for tours], major art museums, galleries and the beautiful Emerald Necklace park, designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, winding through the area. The Hale Family Center for Families offers some free museum passes for inpatient families. 617.355.6279.

In front of Boston Children's main entrance is Longwood Avenue, the main street of the area.

Left on Longwood Ave.

- Longwood Galleria – at Brookline Ave., the premier area food court; includes a pharmacy.
- Brookline Ave. – restaurants and coffee shops.

Right on Longwood Ave.

- Harvard Medical School – founded in 1782, surrounds a green quadrangle open to kids and friends.

Safe Walking

Daylight hours are best: buildings are open for visits and streets are filled with people. Enjoy these walks with your family or a friend and cross only at marked crosswalks. Carry a map so a return route is easy to find.

About WalkBoston

WalkBoston is the state's principal pedestrian organization, focused on safety improvements for pedestrians and education about walkers' needs. We encourage walking for transportation, health and vibrant communities. We are supported by corporate and individual contributions.

MAKING MASSACHUSETTS MORE WALKABLE

45 School Street | Boston MA 02108 | 617.367.9255 | www.walkboston.org

Sponsor: Hale Family Center for Families at Boston Children's Hospital

① Brookline Village

3.2 miles/80 minute loop
Quaint neighborhood, shopping for books & toys

Go out to Longwood Ave. Turn L, then L again on Brookline Ave. Cross Riverway. Turn R. At Netherlands Rd. turn L. Turn R on Aspinwall Ave. & L on Harvard St. Return via Station St., R on Aspinwall Ave., L on Brookline Ave., R on Longwood Ave. to hospital.

- What to look for: Unusual Victorian buildings in carefully preserved 19th c. neighborhoods.
- Netherlands Chocolate House – built by the Van Houten Chocolate Co. for the 1893 Chicago World’s Fair, then transported back to this site.
 - Brookline Public Library – has a large children’s section and a snack bar.
 - Brookline Village shopping – attractive old buildings with book and toy stores for children.
 - Puppet Show Place [32 Station St.] – shows for kids on Wed./Thurs. mornings; Sat./Sun. afternoons. www.puppetshowplace.org 617.731.6400.
 - Billy Ward Playground – Aspinwall/Brook Streets.
 - John E. Murphy Playground – Kent/Brook Streets.

② Coolidge Corner

1.5 miles/30 minute loop
Busy shopping for books, toys, movies & food

Go out to Longwood Ave. & turn L. At end of Longwood turn R on Harvard St. Coolidge Corner is straight ahead.

- What to look for: Coolidge Corner has shopping, ethnic restaurants and an Art Deco movie theatre. Halfway there, Longwood/Lawrence Playground has lots of equipment and plenty of space.
- Longwood Towers [Longwood Ave./Chapel St.] – three 10-story Gothic-style residential brick buildings.
 - Longwood Playground [Lawrence Elementary School] – fully-equipped playgrounds amid grassy fields.
 - S.S. Pierce Building – Coolidge Corner’s landmark stucco Tudor-style building with a clock tower built as an upscale grocery store 100 years ago.
 - Coolidge Corner Theatre – a vaudeville-style cinema from 1933, with movies/live shows for kids, 10:30 a.m. Sat./Sun. www.coolidge.org 617.734.2500.
 - Arcade Building – a funky mall of 75-years ago.

③ Emerald Necklace

1.6 miles/30 minute loop with a short stairway
Linear park with ducks, trolleys & children’s theatre

Go out to Longwood Ave. Turn L. Turn R on Brookline Ave. At Fenway/Riverway, turn L. Cross at the signal into the park. Over the river, turn L. Follow the path under the arched stone bridge and turn L at Brookline Ave. Turn R at Longwood Ave.

- What to look for: The Emerald Necklace is one of Frederick Law Olmsted’s most famous designs – a 6-mile string of parks linked by boulevards, stretching between the Charles River Basin and Franklin Park.
- The Park – a 19th century idyll with tall trees and lavish landscaping to glamorize the Muddy River.
 - Emerald Necklace boulevard – changes names for each part of the park. Here it’s the Riverway; north it’s the Fenway; and south it’s the Jamaicaway.
 - Green Line trolleys parallel the park – a terrific way to explore the city and its historic districts.
 - Wheelock Family Theatre – shows for kids Friday evening, matinees on Sat./Sun. 180 The Riverway, www.wheelock.edu 617.879.2147

④ Fenway Park/Kenmore Square

1.9 miles/40 minute loop
Baseball, shopping, restaurants & nearest movies

Go out to Longwood Ave. & turn L. Turn R at Brookline Ave. Turn R on Yawkey Way for Fenway Park. Kenmore Square is 2 blocks further.

- What to look for: The Boston Red Sox are famous for their antique stadium, now updated—it’s interesting even if you’re not a fan. Nearby Kenmore Sq. is a subway hub, with restaurants, bookstores and Boston University.
- Regal 13 Cinema – movie theatre closest to hospitals www.regalcinemas.com 617.424.6266.
 - Fenway Park tours – daily 9-5, on the hour $12-$18. www.redsox.mlb.com
 - Boston Red Sox – play from early April through Sept. [with big hopes for postseason games in Oct.]
 - Citgo sign – the huge landmark in Kenmore Square is easily seen from inside Fenway Park.
 - Boston University – a mile-long campus from Kenmore Square out along Commonwealth Ave.

⑤ Back Bay Fens/Gardner Museum

2.1 miles/45 minute loop
Beautiful museum surrounded by parks

Go out to Longwood Ave & turn R. Then L at Ave. Louis Pasteur. Turn R for museum. Cross the “Fenway” boulevard. Follow paths. Cross any bridge to return.

- What to look for: The Gardner Museum faces the Fenway portion of the Emerald Necklace park where the Muddy River bends and twists through dense planting. Created from a mudflat 100 years ago, the park is now the focus of one of the city’s most densely-built areas.
- Boston Latin School [1635] – the nation’s oldest public school in continuous operation. Ave. Louis Pasteur.
 - Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum [1903] – spectacular interior garden courtyard and renowned European art. www.gardnermuseum.org 617.566.1401
 - Back Bay Fens – part of the Emerald Necklace and includes a Rose Garden, War Memorials and a Community “Victory Garden” founded during WWII.

⑥ Museum of Fine Arts

1.7 miles/35 minute loop
World-class art & the first baseball World Series

Go out to Longwood Ave. & turn R. Turn L at Huntington Ave.

- What to look for: Institutions line the 4-block walk to the Museum of Fine Arts. 2 blocks further, Northeastern University’s exciting new architecture is on the site of the first [1903] baseball World Series.
- Warren Anatomical Museum – Harvard Medical School’s Countway Library. 10 Shattuck St. Free. Open Mon.-Fri., 9-5. 617.432.6196
 - Mass. College of Art [1873] – a public school of art and design with an on-site art gallery. Open Mon.-Fri. 10-6; Sat. 11-5. www.massart.edu 617.879.7336
 - Huntington Avenue/Avenue of the Arts – lined with 12 educational institutions and six galleries/museums.
 - Wentworth Institute of Technology – a career-focused, cooperative work-study school. Look for the 6-foot leopard sculpture on Huntington Ave.
 - Museum of Fine Arts [MFA] – one of the largest museums in the country; has Family Place activities for kids and free guided tours. Note “The Appeal

- to the Great Spirit” and other sculptures along Huntington Ave. www.mfa.org/learn 617.267.9300
- Northeastern University – integrates classroom and real-world experience in cooperative work-study.
 - First World Series [1903] – A plaque on Cabot Hall [corner of Huntington/Forsyth] memorializes the field where the series was played. [Boston beat Pittsburgh for the championship!]
 - Cy Young – won more games [511] than any pitcher in baseball history. The annual Cy Young Award now goes to baseball’s best pitcher. His statue behind Cabot Hall faces the old home plate.

⑦ Mission Hill

2.4 miles/60 minute loop
Quarry park & hilly views of Boston

Go out to Longwood Ave. & turn L. Turn L at Binney Street. At Francis St, turn L. Cross Huntington Ave. to Tremont St. [continuation of Francis St.] & continue to the Mission Hill Park.

- What to look for: Mission Hill [once Parker Hill] is home to 18,000 people living in brick row houses and freestanding 3-deckers. It is known for its landmark church, ethnic diversity and views of the city.
- Brigham Circle – the neighborhood commercial center has a grocery store, drug stores and bistros.
 - Kevin W. Fitzgerald Park/Puddingstone Park [2002] – a reclaimed quarry can be accessed on foot — take escalator to grocery store parking lot. Turn L, take switchback trail to the hilltop for spectacular vistas of downtown Boston and Back Bay. Open May–Sept.
 - Mission Church and Basilica [1876] – Roxbury puddingstone, with two spires added in 1910.
 - Mission Hill Park – next to the church, has a small playground for kids and great city views for adults.
 - Parker Hill Library [1929] – retains original small leaded windows and Flemish oak panels.

Have less time/need to stay in the building?
The main lobby’s Rube Goldberg “Bippity Bop” Machine starts a ball at the top, rolls along convoluted tracks, rings bells and bounces its way down.